The Thrill of the Splash has Returned with SCS Interactive's HydroLine

Denver, Colo (June 21, 2009) SCS Interactive puts the “splash” back into the splash park market with its new HydroLine™. The splash park concept has grown in popularity over the last 10 years and can now be found in municipal aquatic centers, parks, campgrounds, hotels, water parks, and resorts. It not only provides fun and excitement for children of all ages, but also requires a minimal capital investment, has low operating costs, and requires minimal supervision. With the HydroLine™, SCS brings “hands on” interactivity, climbable structures with tipping buckets and iconic elements to this market, offering a true waterpark experience in a small package.

The SCS Interactive HydroLine™ is made of all stainless steel. Within the HydroLine™ you will be able to choose from many product categories:

HydroDek™: SCS Interactive's HydroDek™ offers a unique approach to ground sprays and above ground spray elements. The HydroDek™ combines the best of SCS; it has SCS industry leading interactivity combined with SCS Interactive's ability to create iconic attractions, all available now in a competitively priced package.

HydroStructures: SCS Interactive's HydroStructures were designed with affordability and creativity in mind. These structures feature the SCS patented tipping bucket and were created to function as one element on a HydroDek or to be a stand-alone iconic structure.

HydroSlides: Along with offering the industry standard in slides, SCS Interactive offers a variety of stainless steel slides to complement the HydroLine. Whether you are looking to add a slide to an existing pool or you want to add a new level of interactivity to a HydroDek, the SCS HydroSlides offer the ideal solution.

HydroPhone: SCS Interactive introduces the HydroPhone. The HydroPhone is a musical instrument that makes music out of water. You can use it as a stand alone attraction or add one to your HydroDek to bring it to life with music.

SCS is thrilled to be an innovator in this market, because it can offer clients new design options that bring heightened excitement to the splash park market.
